MY LITTLE CAT.

A little girl on returning from school found the dead body of her little cat thrown out in the yard. The following is the expression of her grief.

Day's frowns you out an' left you alone,
Little cat.

'Tis a broken your fur,
But you don't never pur
Or hang up anycher.

Little cat—
'W'y is dat?

Is your purrin an' leavin' up done?

An' w'y is your little foot tied,
Little cat?

Did dey pison your tumnick inside.

Little Cat?

Did they pouse your will briske
Or will big, many sticks,

Or abuse you will kicks,

Little Cat—tell me dat?

Did dey boiler whenever you cried?

Did it hurt werry much when you died,
Little Cat?

Oh, w'y didn't you wan off an' hide,
Little Cat?

I's wet in my eyes, coz I always cwee

When a pussy dies, little Cat,

Think of dat.

An' is afafully sally besides,

Des lay still down on de ground.

Little Cat.

Dey can't hurt you no more wen yous
tired an sore,

So set down w'at'er, you poor little cat.

An' forget all de kicks of de town

THE OLD MAN AND JIM

Published by special request.

Old man's never had much to say—
'Ceptin' to Jim—

And Jim was the wildest boy he had—
And the old man 'jes' wrapped up in

him!

Never heard him speak but once
Er twice in my life, and first time was

When the war broke out, and Jim he went.

The old man lookin' him, for three months;

And all at I heard the old man say
Was, 'jes' as we turned to start away—

'Well, good-by Jim,
Take keer of youse!'"

Peard like, he was more satisfied
'Jes' lookin' at Jim

And lookin' him all to hise ('-like, see?'

'Cause he was 'jes' wrapped up in him!

And over and over I stand the day
The old man came and stood round in the way

When we was drillin' a watchin' Jim—
And down at the depot a-beenin' him say

'Well, good-by Jim,
Take keer of youse!'"

Never was nothin' about the farm
Disturbin' Jim;

Neighbours all got to wonder why
Type II was 'jes' wrapped up in him,

But when Cap. Legger he writ back
'At Jim was the bravest boy he had

In the whole dern regiment, white or black,

And his fightin' good as his farmin' bad—
'At he had led, with a bullet clean boxed through his thigh, and carried the flag

Through the bloodiest battle you ever seen!"

The old man wound up a letter to him
At Cap. read to us, at said: "Tell Jim good-by,

And take keer of hise!"

Jim come home 'jes' long enough
To take the win!

'At he'd like to go back in the calvary—
And the old man 'jes' wrapped up in

him!

Jim bowed 'at he'd had sick back afore,
Guess he'd tackle her for three year

more.

And the old man give him a colt he'd raised,

And followed him over to camp Ben Wade
And laid around for a week or so,

Watchin' Jim on dress parade—
Tel finally he rid away,

And last he heard was the old man say:—
'Well, good-by Jim,
Take keer of youse!"

Take the papers the old man did,
A watchin' for Jim—

Fully believe he'd make his mark
Some way—'jes' wrapped up in him!

And many a time he said and will come
'Atted him up, like the tap of a drum;

At Peterburg for instance, where
Jim rid right into the cannons there,

And took 'em and 'em out on either way,
And eached it mean to the boys in grey,

And they stood for timber, and on and on—

Jim a hunter and an arm gone,
And the old man's words in his mind all day—

'Well, good-by Jim,
Take keer of youse!"

Think of a private man, perhaps,
We'll say like Jim.

At's clamb clean up to the shoulder
strap—

And the old man 'jes' wrapped up in
him.

Think of him with the war plum through,
And the glorious old red, white and blue

A laughin' the news down over Jim,
And the old man, bendin' over him—

The sargeon 'twined away with tears
'At he'd 'leased for years and years,

At the hand of the dying boy clung to his father's, the old voice in his ear—

'Well, good-by Jim,
Take keer of youse!"
